THE YEN GOES DOWN

The Japanese yen has dropped to a new low level, and is now worth much less than its par value. This is the immediate reaction from the large military budget, just approved at Tokyo, carrying the certainty of a heavy debt.

Canada is interested in this in the sense that it narrows our opportunities for trade in the Orient.
Japan has effectively closed the Japanese market for its industrial countries. Chinese products have been barred by a high tariff.

The raw material source in Japanese factories is impaired. The country has no iron and is poor in other natural resources. The farther the yen drops, the wider the gap that separates it from our gold dollar, and the less prospect that Canadian raw materials will be used by Japanese industries.

policy is plainly a failure so far as the farmer is concerned. He would be better off if he were abandoned and he were paid a straight five cents a bushel bonus on his crop.

But in the circumstances, neither supporting the market nor paying a bonus would be anything more than a ploy. The one way to actually and permanently reduce the farmer's losses is to discontinue the dollar from grains of gold and relate it to the currency of the country where he has to do his selling, if he is to do so.

On the 20th of October, the last date for which official figures are to hand, farmers in Australia were getting 60 cents a bushel for wheat at country stations. Deducting 8 cents government bonus, they were getting 60 cents a bushel from the sale of wheat in the ordinary way.

Alberta farmers, with whatever benefit was given by the Government's assistance in hedging operations were at that date being offered 29½ cents a bushel at stations that had spread between 40 cents a bushel and 29½ cents a bushel represented the amount that is being held back from the Alberta farmer in order that Canada may maintain its dollar at a level figure above the trade value of the British pound.

Strange, isn't it that money is scarce, business sluggish, farmers frantic and ten per cent of the population of Canada on the relief list?

What is the reason for this? For the last three

SIDE GLANCES - By George Clark

"It isn't my baby!"

Twentieth century statesmanship touched its lowest depth when Franklin D. Roosevelt, president-elect of the United States, with the largest majority in the history of his country, gave utterance to that remark.

It was his contribution to a world crisis in which his country, with 12 millions of its people out of work, faces the risk of having its entire export trade cut off.

In the nature of things, first class brains and public spirit can never expect to attain high office.
Dr. Bryce in his "The American Commonwealth," written over forty years ago, has a chapter entitled "Why Great Men Are Not Chosen Presidents."

He lists as chief reason, that eminent men by reason of their eminent ability make enemies, and are therefore less desirable as candidates, and that "they feel, strong enough to carry in on its back a man without conspicuous positive merits, is not always strong enough to procure forgiveness for a man with positive faults."

Walter Lippman in the early days of the recent contest, writing of Hoover and of presidential candidates in general, said:

"I do not know of a campaign where either candidate ever took a decisive stand on conventional matter unless they who had the Presidential ambitions aside ever practice candor consistently."

The system favors the pussy-footers.

Granted that men of the most eminent ability and most direct initiative cannot attain the Presidency, motives of security and prudence might have swayed Roosevelt to the effect of declining to say of the war debts crisis "It isn't my baby."

He has attained the Presidency. He attained it on a campaign for a man to solve unemployment in the employment, dwindling export trade and the sorrow of the "forgotten man." He will need all his time and brains to solve the problems of the present election come round. He might well have embraced the opportunity to influence policies today, when they may be influenced by him.

While it is a narrow sense it may be true that the war debt problem is not Roosevelt's baby, it most assuredly will be his baby after March 4 next. It will be a debt that he will have to carry with him, and may keep Franklin Delano Roosevelt awake for many a sleepless night during his occupancy of the White House.

He might have said that he did not assume a feather-patch and in November, 1932, while he had the opportunity.

In the working out of events, it may be that Roosevelt's refusal to accept responsibility before March 4, 1933, will prove helpful. Indications are that he will be able to get the best of the matter.
All the prophets have out-guessed themselves.
The only man who has survived the storm is Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Every three months for the past twelve he has predicted that property is "just around the corner." We seem to have turned four corners in the past twelve months and arrived back in the position indicated by the command of my old sergeant-major, "As you were, before you was."

To The Ladies ...

.. the most subtle .. the most simple .. the most adorable .. the most unreasonable — the most indispensable creatures in the world!"

—King Solomon

"MY DEAR—HAVE YOU HEARD ...?"

WHETHER it is a brilliant reception for distinguished visitors from afar, or a little journey to a nearby town by your neighbor, the Bulletin social columns print it first!

Hostess

Suggestions

There you will always find, too, delightful little hostess suggestions, witty stories of everyday happenings among the women of the city, laughable cases of mistaken identity, amusing blunders made by prominent people—every day a gay little story offers interest at the top of the social column.

Home and Abroad

But, of course, you are interested in the things women are doing at home and abroad! — I mean, being ignorant of the Big Movements today simply isn't done. Household hints have been replaced by world economics at bridge tables, and the women's point of view is always given in an interesting, easily read and enlightening manner in the Bulletin women's section.

Women's Organizations

Whether you belong to the Creche or the I.O.D.E. or the White Shrine of Jerusalem, you'll find faithful recordings of clubs' activities in the Bulletin each day. And, of course, there are interesting interviews with women visitors you might like to meet but can't, and all the little personal touches about those charming people who come to give lectures and speeches at the Canadian Club and other organizations.

For the Modern Woman the BULLETIN Offers a Complete Social Lookout of What Is Happening Around Them Today

A CUTE BABY!

... Full of sweet reasonableness and good temper because his mother follows all the articles on Baby nurture in the Bulletin Women's section. She keeps posted in this way with all the latest wrinkles for keeping him well and happy.

Baby holds the future in his hands and it is terribly important that he should grow up with a sweet disposition and a broad mind.

Little things lead to great issues. If Baby grows up into a confirmed "Red" you will have to ask yourself whether the powder box was employed to the best advantage ...

If Baby grows up into an embittered and hopelessly soured individual, it will probably be because the safety pins of infancy were carelessly fastened so as to impale sensitive portions of his anatomy.

Avoid errors. Follow the articles on Baby nurture in the women's section. Remember: "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world."

HINTS on COOKERY

By Sister Mary every Thursday and Friday

Proper food is the foundation of everything, because the state of the stomach determines the state of the mind.

These are days when every ounce of mental efficiency is required to meet the abnormal demands upon it.

Let "hubby" go to work with an unhappy "inner man," a cranky mood and a brain that is not hitting on all six, and the threat to the family happiness — and possible fortunes — is obvious.

Sister Mary will show you how to make the best of everything. The "How" and "Why" of food, what to choose, how to prepare it and how to economize.

Sister Mary's articles and recipes are all up-to-the-minute, and will be invaluable to the hostess.

Remember to read "Sister Mary" in our women's section.
